INFANTS' MILK STATION.

Worthy Charity Described by Its Promoters and Supporters—Tea Follows.

Deeply interested in the work that is being done by the United Charities association through its Infants' Milk station, a large number of the women of the community attended the tea given at the association's rooms on Valley street Friday afternoon. The place had been very attractively decorated under the direction of Miss May Turner. Dr. C. B. Simonds and Dr. L. L. Mason, who have been working considerably for the benefit of the station, gave interesting talks on the work that had been done. Miss Fitzgerald, the nurse in charge of the station, addressed the women and exhibited some of the babies who are and have been under her care. After the talks, tea was served. Mrs. L. L. Mason presiding. She was assisted by Miss Ethel Hiedorf, Miss Elizabeth Branch and Mrs. William A. Arnold.

Change in Police Beats.

Friday being the first day of the month the regular change of police beats took place. Patrolman Allen McArthur came on at noon for duty, including traffic work on Main street during certain hours of the day when the traffic is heavy. The other changes are: Sodom beat, Patrolman Victor Brander; Jackson street beat, Patrolman John Manley; Main street beat, Patrolman Louis Paulhus; Upper Main street beat, Patrolman Thomas G. Grady.

Dance for Strikers' Benefit.

The second dance for the benefit of the strikers at the plant of the Vandermere Manufacturing company since the strike of the moulders a number of weeks ago, was held at the town hall Friday night and was well attended. The music was by Hickey's orchestra. The venture, like the first one, was a complete success as many bought tickets.

Planning for 15th Anniversary.

The officials of the Y. M. C. A. are busy these days making preparations for the formal opening of the association's rooms for the fall and winter season, also for the observance of the 15th anniversary of the association Wednesday, October 14th. There will be a banquet that night in connection with the other activities and several prominent men in the Y. M. C. A. field have been invited to attend and speak. Among those who will be here are L. E. Hawkins, who is general secretary of the Providence R. I. association; Rev. L. G. Horton of Westerly, R. I. and State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. E. T. Bates of New Haven.

Disseminating No-License Literature.

The first real evidence of the fact that there is to be a no-license campaign in this town in connection with the annual town meeting Monday was called to the attention of the electors Friday when most of them received through the mail literature on the matter. Little leaflets with arguments against license were widely distributed in this manner. Rev. Willard O. Nuzzum of the Methodist church and Mrs. Nellie A. Gager of the W. C. T. U. are in charge of this work and it is intended to have each elector receive by tonight, suitable reading in opposition to license. It is said that on Monday the no-license workers will make every possible effort to get the electors to vote against license. It is now over twenty years that Windham has been "wet" and there are many who do not expect to see it go dry this year, at least. On the other hand there are others who say that it is possible for the town to vote against license. Last year the majority in favor of license was 326.

Take Out Hunters' Licenses.

Among those who have applied to the town clerk and have been granted hunting licenses recently are: M. F. Sullivan, C. E. Leonard, Roy Dearse, Pierre Delorine, John T. Erbach, Wells S. Wilcox, H. L. Spaulding, Walter R. Learned, Robert L. Olson, Albert Warren, all of this city; Row-

Hen Hawk Liberated, but Recaptured.

A hen hawk that had been left at Laramee's shoe-repairing shop by a stranger Thursday, did not prove very entertaining company for "Mitch" and on Friday he decided that in view of the fact that the owner had not called for the bird and that he did not keep a storehouse for birds of the hawk type, the hen hawk would get its liberty. He took the box out on the sidewalk and liberated the hawk. The latter started for a sparrow across the street and came in contact with a show window of the Hurley-Grant Hardware store. The blow stunned the bird and it was caught, placed in a box, and later was on exhibition in the hardware store window.

Brief Mention.

On Friday United States Marshal Chester C. Middlebrook of Winsted called on Mayor Daniel P. Dunn, at the latter's store.

Mrs. William R. Weeks and daughter, Miss Dorothy, who have been touring through New Hampshire and Vermont in an automobile, have returned to their home in this city. Louis Tracy of this city was chauffeur on the trip.

PLAINFIELD

Local Football Team to Play Goodyear Team at Willimantic Today—Personal Notes.

The Plainfield football team will journey to Willimantic today, where they will play the Goodyear club. This is the first meeting between these two teams since the Goodyear club was two joined in the league for the Bulletin cup this year. Plainfield is out for a victory as they have not played a game for the cup this year for the game between Tatfield and Plainfield, which Plainfield won, 4 to 0, was protested by Tatfield and must be played again. Tatfield defeated the Goodyear club, 7 to 0, last Saturday and Plainfield expects to defeat the Goodyear club in the same fashion as Tatfield. Plainfield will have a strong lineup for today.

Mrs. John Rogan has gone to Worcester, Mass., to visit her sister, who is very ill. Philip Smith was a visitor Friday at the Cushing farm, Brooklyn, the home of his brother. A large number of young people from here were in Central Village Friday evening attending a dance. George Belsford and F. J. Racine were visitors in Norwich Friday.

THE SUBMARINE

become entangled, the patrols converge at the place and wait until the inevitable must disentangle itself. Inevitably must disentangle itself. Then it is destroyed by gunfire or captured.

Special Type of Mine.

A special type of mine also has been devised which is laid in large fields. These mines have proved particularly dangerous to submarines approaching the coast of the British Isles.

The German methods of supply submarines with oil and provisions, either at sea or from concealed places along the coast of the British Isles have been ferreted out and virtually disposed of. This compels the boats to return to their base at more frequent intervals and leaves them only a comparatively short time in position and equipped for effective duty.

Destroyers, the reports claim, become expert in the game of submarine hunting, and armed trawlers also have proved very effective, as on account of their speed and ability to get within easy range of their victims. But the great single factor, it is said, has been a newly designed and built class of small seagoing motor boats, armed with one or two three-inch guns and possessing high speed. These boats literally swarm over suspected expanses of the waters and, by an effectively worked-out system of patrol, cover almost every mile of the surface in channels of commerce adjacent to Great Britain. As a submarine must frequently rise to renew its air supply and recharge the storage batteries by which it is propelled when submerged, any in the territory covered by the scouts is almost certain to be eventually detected and destroyed.

These small boats have been built in large numbers in England and it is reported that about 500 of them are being constructed in the United States and Canada to be shipped in sections to Great Britain. Aeroplanes are described as exceedingly useful in locating and following the trail of submarines. They can detect one even a hundred feet beneath the surface. It is the habit, the reports say, of the German submarines to slip into favorable positions along the steamer lanes and lie on the bottom for long periods. At these times they are not in motion, only a very brief stay on the surface is necessary to renew the air supply and take a hurried observation. Undersea boats adopting these tactics have been the most difficult to catch. Here the aeroplane has shown its greatest usefulness, as the comparatively shallow water along much of the British coast makes it possible for the aeroplane operators to see the ships lying on the bottom. The aeroplane notes the position and notifies the nearest destroyer or patrol boat, which speeds to the spot and waits for the submarine to rise.
